Ryan's Record Grows

Harry Ryan has added another community to the long list of those in which he has suffered defeat—Stockton. Mr. Ryan has represented the liquor interests in many hard-lost contests. He was their principal man at San Jose when saloon closing was before that community. He made their fight for them in Los Angeles at the time the liquor interests of that community went down to smashing defeat. He has been their spokesman in many minor campaigns where the verdict of the voters went against him and against the saloons. And now he has added Stockton to the list of his losses. It will be interesting to note how long the various liquor groups will pay Mr. Ryan and men of his type generous salaries for losing campaigns. Something seems to be wrong with their methods or with their arguments, or perhaps with both.

Ladies Entertain For Red Cross

An enthusiastic company, including all ages, enjoyed the dancing party Saturday evening at the James Turner home.

The hostesses are very attentive to the wants of their guests and every one present is made to feel delightfully at home. The party included several from Santa Clara and San Jose, as well as Campbell, and Camp Fremont was liberally represented.

The music was stationed on the stair landing so that the dancers made use of both the dance hall upstairs and the spacious verandas.

The ladies are planning to give the third party next week, Saturday, July 27. The proceeds of these parties are given to the Red Cross.

Plan To Save All Surplus Fruit

A very interesting plan has recently been perfected for the saving of surplus fruit in the County of Santa Clara. Co-operating with the Food Administration, both the Food Director, Mrs. Shockley, and the Home Economics County Chairman, Miss Mignon, the National League for Woman's Service is calling for volunteers to save all excess fruit, whether from the big ranch or small back-yard. The plan is to have a local chairman in each town choose a central place where fruit may be brought; then volunteers are being enrolled for any and all of the following lines of service,—for promises of donations of fruit; for picking the same; for transporting the same to designated center; for gifts or loans of containers such as jars and cans; for money to buy the same or for money to buy sugar; finally for promises to help to do the actual work of preserving or drying the fruit, making jams, jellies and so on. Nobody is expected to do all these things, but it seems as tho' everybody might be able to do one of these things. The fruit thus saved is to be used the coming winter for the various departments of war work affecting soldiers and the families of soldiers, such as National Defender's Clubs (the free social clubs for "our boys"), the Hostess House at Camp Fremont (the free social center where mothers, wives and sweethearts meet "their boys"), for any cases of need vouched for by the different war-relief agencies and for Hospitals.

The Food Administration State Office, has allowed the National League for Woman's Service the privilege of buying sugar, up to a certain amount, for this purpose, and the sugar slips, properly sworn to, are to be obtained from the County Food Conservation Chairman, N. L. W. S., Mrs. E. L. Thomas, Mt. View, Calif., P. F. D. Mrs. Thomas will be very glad to answer inquiries, and she hopes that our banner fruit county may make a world record in this all-important venture. All the local chairmen have not yet been appointed, but due notice will be given very soon of names and centers. There is a center in Campbell of which Mrs. D. H. Cramer is in charge, and from whom further information may be obtained.

TO THE HOUSEWIVES OF SANTA CLARA COUNTY: You can probably give fruit; if you cannot give it, you can pick someone's fruit, by permission of course; or you can take it in your automobile a few miles; or you can make the best jam in your township and are glad to do it for the soldiers; or you can lend some glass jars; or you can subscribe a few dimes for the sugar fund. The results may mean health and happiness to a homesick soldier next winter, when pies are scarce and coffee is black, If fruit is donated in excellent condition, as much of it as is possible will be saved to be eaten fresh at the soldier's Clubs and so on; but the surplus must be canned for later use, or dried, where facilities exist. In any case, Help Santa Clara's Fruit Drive.

Tax Levy Carried

The trustees of the Campbell grammar school and all those interested in the welfare of its pupils are gratified over the results of the election Saturday. While the number of votes cast was not very large, the majority was exceedingly gratifying, 58 for to 13 against.

Our near neighbors are evidently as "hard up" as we are, for Los Gatos voted the same day to levy a special tax and the board at Saratoga are advertising for an election to be held in August.

The next problem that confronts our Board is the disposition of the "old school." They are anxious to sell it and have the ground for use. The school is sadly in need of play ground equipment, as there is nothing to speak of now, the slide being practically out of commission and there are only three "teeters." With part of the money obtained from the sale, the grounds could be put in shape, equipment supplied and other things done, as there is much good material in the building.

While on this subject the election board should be thanked for their services, which for all school elections are gratuitous.

Mr. Zabel, who recently sold his farm on Latimar avenue to Mr. Rose, has moved into the former S. G. Rodeck home on Campbell avenue. The property which Mr. Zabel disposed of is better known as the Templeton ranch.

Earl Stanley and Elizabeth Ayer, of San Jose, John Grady and Mae Letson of Kenosha, Wisconsin, were contracting parties at a double wedding in San Jose, Saturday. Both young men are stationed with the 8th Division at Camp Fremont. The young ladies are in the fruit work at Campbell.

A SQUARE DEAL — Blaine's GENERAL MERCHANDISE — for the Round Dollar

Use Cheese With Fresh Fruit

When cheese of the California type is soft aad creamy, the sort that just melts is one's mouth, it's a food fit for a king—or better, for a president, for the world is about thru with kings. But a brand of cheese uniformly high in quality is rare; and, being rare, there is naturally a great demand for it, which makes the price a little higher than the average of inferior cheese.

So, when some one asks the price of our cheese, and we reply that it is 35c a pound, the customer occasionally exclaims, "Whew! isn't that rather high?" To which we explain, "Yes, but so is the quality of the cheese". No, please don't think that we are profiteering here. Bless you, if we didn't make higher profit on some things than we do on cheese, Blaine's Store would soon be in that state of oblivion to which we hope soon to consign the Kaiser.

But the first cost is really a secondary item. The fact is that cheese stands among the most valuable of the concentrates. Pound for pound, in food units, it so far outranks meat that there is no comparison When its food value and its price are considered together it is seen to be one of the cheapest of foods. It is so concentrated, indeed, that this is almost a fault, one that can be easily corrected, however, by the plentiful use of fruit. Fresh fruit and cheese eaten in combination are ideal.

Granting, then, that cheese is a splendid food, and cheap at any reasonable price, the problem is to furnish a cheese flavor that will tickle your palate. For unless you like it, you will not care to eat it; and unless you eat it, you will not get the good of it. Just such delicious cheese we have at—yes, at 35c a pound.

MINDS VARY LITTLE

SMALL DIFFERENCE OF THOSE OF MEN AND WOMEN.

President of Smith College Has Given Expression to Views That Will Be Received With More or Less Approval.

That there is very little difference between the minds of men and the minds of women, and what difference there may be is caused by personality, and not by sex, is the opinion of Dr. Marion Le Roy Smith, president of Smith college.

"The differences that still exist in the education of boys and girls are not so much due to psychological differences between them as to social conditions," declared Doctor Smith in defending this theory. "They are based on the functions that they will fulfill in the world. For instance, to date, and probably for some time to come, more men than women will do the world's work as mechanical engineers. And so there are naturally more institutions to train men for this work than there are for women.

"But already the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has opened its doors to women, and I don't doubt that before long more conservative professional schools will follow suit, or they will be duplicated by similar conditions in schools for women.

"In Smith college, while there has been an increase of 1 per cent in the proportion of men employed during my administration, the relative importance of women on the faculty has increased. The college now has a woman dean, a position formerly held by a man. There are sixteen women and three men in administrative positions, where there used to be six women and two men, and there are as many women heads of departments as there ever were. One significant reason why we have not more women on the staff is that there are not more adequately trained women.

"As to economic independence, I believe that every woman should be brought up to earn her own living, if necessary," said the college president. "But I am not willing to say that a wife and mother in a home does not earn hers. I believe that in most cases she does. The average marriage is a partnership, in which the wife does her share in keeping up the home and caring for the children. The children belong equally to the man and the woman, and are a joint responsibility.

"I certainly do want women to have all their rights. What I look forward to is the day when no woman shall be at a disadvantage, because of her sex, and when no woman shall be able to take an unfair advantage because of it. Both conditions exist today."

Modern Farming.

United States Secretary of Agriculture Houston was describing at a dinner in Washington the changes that have come over farming methods.

"It's an age of machinery today," he said. "The milking machine has succeeded the milkmaid. The phonograph has succeeded the melodeon. The motor plow has succeeded the horse plow.

"There's an appropriate story abopt a young farmer who loved two girls equally—the one slim and petite, the other tall and herculean.

"The young farmer in this dilemma asked his father's advice. The father, puffing thoughtfully on a Havana—for your modern farmer is too prosperous to smoke domestic cigars—answered:

"'There's so much machinery used in farming nowadays, James, that a big, strong wife is hardly needed. I advise you to take the little one—she'll eat less.'"

French Army Mustache.

We know that our soldiers have been allowed to do away with their facial hair. It has been shown that the soldiers of Napoleon remained freely beardless and that the absence of hair beneath the nose accorded with the views of hygienists. The opinion, combated by the mustache school, has just surrendered. An official circular recalls to the soldiers of France that the wearing of the mustache is military, that the razored face is not so and that the entire army should hereafter avoid showing the upper lip. Thus, the mustache has triumphed after having been discussed, decried and almost proscribed. —Le Cri de Paris.

Many Uses.

"Books! Books! They are turned out by the carload."

"Maybe so," said the impecunious scribbler. "Still, they are useful things."

"I'm not denying that."

"For instance, one supports a corner of my dresser where there is a castor missing, another thin one placed under a leg of my writing table keeps it steady and this volume of Burns here is just the thing to keep the flies out of my sugar bowl."

"Are you going to rusticate this summer, Mrs. Comeup?"

"No, indeed; we can't afford anything that expensive. We'v just going down on the farm."

Outbreak in Ireland Was Planned by Bernstorff

British Press Bureau Bares Details of Series of Conspiracies.

GOT AID FROM AMERICANS

Germany's Purpose Was to Obtain Submarine Bases on Ireland's Coast —Documents Disclose Connection Between Sinn Fein and Germany.

London.—Germany's untiring efforts to foment revolution in Ireland with the aid of the Sinn Fein are laid bare in a statement from the official press bureau, reviewing this phase of the Irish political situation since the beginning of the war.

After the rebellion of Easter week, 1916, plans were made for a revolt in 1917, but this miscarried because of America's entry into the war and Germany's inability to send troops to Ireland. An uprising in Ireland was planned for this year after the German offensive in the west had been successful and when Great Britain presumably would be stripped of troops.

Concerning the recent arrests in Ireland, the statement says, the facts and documents for obvious reasons, cannot be disclosed at this time, nor can the means of communication between Germany and Ireland.

One phase of every plan called for the establishment of submarine bases in Ireland. In the present circumstances, it is added, no other course was open to the government "if useless bloodshed was to be avoided and its duties to its allies fulfilled, but to intern the authors and abettors of this criminal intrigue."

German Government in Plot.

The statement from the press bureau follows:

"The revolutionary movement in Ireland which culminated in the arrest of a considerable number of persons last week consisted of two closely related series of activities. Attempts by the German government to foment rebellion in Ireland and preparations in Ireland to carry these attempts into action.

"The story of the active connection between the leaders of the Sinn Fein movement and the Germans, as disclosed by documents in possession of the British government, falls into two parts—the period prior to and the period since the abortive Irish rebellion of Easter, 1916.

"The events of the first period can be told in some detail, but the second period, which concerns recent events, permits of no more than a summary, as a full statement of the facts and documents in possession of the government would disclose the names of persons who stood by the government and also the channels of communication through which the German government was acting and which it would not be in the public interest to reveal at present.

American Carried Messages.

"The story begins as early in the war as November 6, 1914, when Herr Zimmermann transmitted through Count von Bernstorff a message from Sir Roger Casement (later captured in Ireland and executed) asking that a messenger, a native-born American if possible, be sent to Ireland with word that everything was favorable. He was to carry no letter, for fear of arrest. Casement also asked that an Irish priest should be sent to Germany with the assistance of the German legation in Norway to work in prison camps to corrupt Irish prisoners of war. The priest was a certain Father John T. Nicholson, an American citizen of Irish birth. He reached Germany safely, and we found him in January, 1915, transmitting messages to America.

"According to a report of Capt. von Papen (German military attache in Washington), dated December 5, 1914, verbal assurances were sent in response to Casement's request that an excellent impression had been produced in Ireland. In the beginning of 1914 the plot ripened and on February 10 of that year Count von Bernstorff sent to a covering address in Rotterdam a dispatch signed with the name of Skal, one of his principal American agents.

"The dispatch included an extract from the report of John Devoy, head of the Clan-na-Gael, to the effect that action in Ireland could not be postponed much longer since he feared the arrest of the leaders. It had been decided, he said, to begin action on Easter Saturday, and he urged that arms and munitions be in Limerick by that date.

Bernstorff Set Date.

"Later in the same month Von Bernstorff, following his usual practice, surreptitiously attached to a message to Berlin passed by the American government, a note fixing Easter Saturday for the rising and urging the dispatch of munitions. On March 4 Von Jagow (German foreign minister) replied that the arms would be landed in Tralee bay, and asked that the necessary arrangements be made in Ireland through Devoy. On March 14 Von Bernstorff replied that the Irish agreed and that full details were being sent to Ireland by messenger.

"The next day Von Bernstorff telegraphed the code to be used between the Germans and the rebels while the arms were in transit, and explained that a submarine might safely enter Dublin bay and go as far as Pigeon House without encountering nets.

"On March 26 Von Jagow replied that the arms would be sent and that a special code word would be used every night as the introduction to the German wireless press service. In a message from Von Bernstorff to Berlin the Germans were assured that there were numerous private wireless receiving stations in Ireland.

"On April 18 and April 19 urgent messages were sent from America to Berlin fixing the delivery of arms for the evening of Easter Sunday, pressing for the landing of German troops and asking for an air raid on England and a naval attack on the English coast. These attacks actually took place between April 24 and 26.

"It was declared to be the hope of the rebels and their German and American friends to blockade Irish ports against England and establish bases in Ireland for German submarines.

"The rebellion broke out a day later than scheduled, on Easter Monday, April 24, but, as the world is aware, German support miscarried and it ended in complete failure. The report of the royal commission on the rebellion in Ireland states:

"'It is now a matter of common notoriety that the Irish volunteers had been in communication with the authorities in Germany and were for a long time known to have been supplied with money through Irish-American societies. This was so stated in public by John MacNeil, former president of the Sinn Fein, on November 8, 1914. It was suspected long before the outbreak that some of the money came from German sources.'

"It became clear soon after the rising that the Sinn Fein leaders again were asking Germany for help. On June 17 there was a message from Berlin to Washington referring to 'A 259 of May 6,' a message which is missing, and saying that Germany was perfectly ready to give further help if the Irish only would say what sort of help they required.

"On June 16 Von Bernstorff already had sent a dispatch giving an account of the rebellion and stating that $5,000 had been provided for the defense of Casement. On July 25 he sent a long message, explaining that the work of reorganizing the rebels was making good progress and that their lack of money had been remedied by him.

"On September 8 in a dispatch to Berlin he inclosed a memorandum from a person called 'the Irish revolution director resident in America,' which contained detailed proposals for a fresh rising. Any rising, said the Irish revolution director, must be contingent upon the sending by Germany of an 'expedition with sufficient military force to cover a landing.'

Demanded U-Boat Bases.

"On this occasion the German government was to fix the time, and as an inducement the advantages of having submarine and Zeppelin bases in west Ireland was insisted upon. Von Bernstorff, on December 4, attaching surreptitiously to a message passed by the government, a note, in which he mentioned that the Irish leaders in America were pressing for an answer to their proposal of September 8. He seems to have followed this on Christmas day with a message which is missing, for on the last day of 1916 Foreign Secretary Zimmermann informed him of quantities of munitions which it was proposed to land between February 21 and 25, 1917. He added that it was impossible to send German troops.

"On January 18, 1917, Bernstorff replied that his Irish committee declined the proposal, as without German troops a rising would be useless.

"After America's entrance into the war, in April, 1917, the line of communication between the German government and the leaders of the Sinn Fein party was broken temporarily, though there was no reason to believe that the messenger service between America and Ireland devised by John Devoy was affected.

"A clew to the new line of communication was obtained subsequently and has been followed up actively. The effect of this new line in Ireland is visible in the speeches of the Sinn Fein leaders during this period.

De Valera Planned Army.

"For example, Prof. De Valera, addressing the convention of the Irish volunteers on October 27, 1917, said:

"'By proper organization and recruiting we could have 500,000 fighting volunteers in Ireland. That would be a big army, but without the opportunity and means for fighting it could only be used as a menace. There already has been too much bloodshed without success, and I would never advocate another rebellion without hopeful chances of success. We can see no hope of that in the near future except through a German invasion of England and the landing of troops and munitions in Ireland. We should be prepared to leave nothing undone toward that end.'

"On another occasion, in January of this year, De Valera said:

"'As long as Germany is the enemy of England and England is the enemy of Ireland, so long will Ireland be a friend of Germany.'

"About April, 1918, it was ascertained definitely that a plan for landing arms in Ireland was ripe for execution and that the Germans only awaited definite information.

"The British authorities were able to warn the Irish command regarding the probable landing of an agent of Germany from a submarine. The agent actually landed on April 12 and was arrested.

Revolt to Follow Drive.

"The new rising depended largely upon the landing of munitions from submarines and there is evidence to show that it was planned to follow a successful German offensive in the west and was to take place at a time when Great Britain presumably would be stripped of troops.

"According to documents found on his person, De Valera had worked out in great detail the constitution of his rebel army. He hoped to be able to muster 500,000 trained men. There is evidence that German munitions actually had been shipped on submarines from Cuxhaven in the beginning of May, and that for some time German submarines have been busy off the west coast of Ireland on other errands than the destruction of allied shipping.

"No other course was open to the government if useless bloodshed was to be avoided and its duty to its allies fulfilled but to intern the authors and abettors of this criminal intrigue."

GAVE CHEER FOR KAISER, WOUND UP IN HOSPITAL

St. Louis.—Charles G. Kirsch, forty-five, a six-foot German, walked into a cigar store and announced he was for Germany and wound up his remarks with a cheer for the kaiser. Max Cohen, who expects soon to be drafted, climbed up on a cigar box and struck Kirsch with his fist. When a policeman arrived on the scene the fight was over. He took Kirsch to the hospital and then to the police station, where he was held for the federal authorities.

THE FLAG.

There's no coward stripe upon it,
And no shame is written on it,
All the blood that's in its crimson
Is the blood of manhood true;
There's no base and brutal glory
Woven sadly in its story,
It's a bright flag, and a right flag
And the flag for you and me.

It's a flag without a fetter;
It's the flag of manhood better;
It has never done a mean thing,
Never waved about a brute;
Greed and hate it never shielded,
Unto wrong it never yielded,
It's a fine flag, a divine flag
That in reverence we salute.

It's the flag of all the glory
That is written in man's story;
It's the emblem of his freedom
And the hope of men oppressed;
It asks no disgraceful duty,
Never stains with shame its beauty,
It's a pure flag, and a sure flag,
It is our flag and the best.

The women who have given

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Ouch! ! ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.—Adv.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and can not salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

The "Hole" Story.

A young soldier who had recently come out of the hospital was telling his experiences at the front. "I certainly had a rough time," he said. "Fact is, I was so riddled with bullets that the fellows behind me complained of the draft."

Prospective Tenant—I like the house, but I don't fancy having that huge building opposite. It cuts out the view.

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—NELLIE B. BRITTINGHAM, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

Are the Packers Profiteers?

Plain Facts About the Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern not only to those engaged in the meat packing business but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The packers mentioned in the report stand ready to prove their profits reasonable and necessary.

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.
The report states that the aggregate profits of four large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the ar profit was $121,000,000 greater than the pre-war profit.

This compares a three-year profit with a one-year profit -- a manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made a mistake in the figures themselves.

The aggregate three-year profit of $140,000,000 was earned on sales of over four and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar of sales -- or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers' profits are a negligible factor in prices of live stock and meats. No other large business is conducted upon such small margins of profit.
Furthermore -- and this is very important -- only a small portion of this profit has been paid in dividends. The balance has been put back into the meat business. It had to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve -- and solve quickly -- during these war years.

To conduct this business in war times, with higher costs and the necessity of paying two or three times the former prices for live stock, has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The additional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been stated, the larger portion of the profits earned has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessry by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the Allies.

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance -- with your banker, say -- and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair minded person that they are in keen competition with each other, and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this positive statement.

Furthermore, government figures show that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They wish it were possible to interest you in the details of their business. Of how, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal owing to utilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distribution throughout this broad land, as well as in other countries.

They have been able to do a big job for your government in its time of need; they have met all war time demands promptly and completely and they are willing to trust their case to the fairmindedness of the American people with the facts before them.

The Patriotic Duty of the Hour

By Franklin Hichborn.

Would you serve Democracy?—Then live for Democracy! Do your part in Democracy! Registar and Vote!

Over across the Atlantic men are making the supreme sacrifice. They are giving their lives that government of the people by the people and for the people—Democracy, if you like,—may not perish from the earth.

We at home are not called upon to make the supreme sacrifice—not called upon to die for the cause of Democracy. But we are called upon to live for Democracy; to live our part in Democracy; to take our part in government of the people by the people and for the people. Failure to do this is failure to support the cause for which men in the trenches are dying; failure to do our bit in the fight for Democracy.

The citizen who neglects to participate at elections does not do his part in government; does not live for Democracy. He is untrue to the Democracy to preserve which men across the Atlantic are giving their lives.

If Democracy is worth fighting for and dying for, it, is worth living for and voting for.

Democracy needs at times men with guns in their hands. But Democracy must have always citizens with ballots in their hands, unless it is to perish from the earth.

The supreme test of Democracy comes not on the battlefield but at the ballot box.

On August 27th, next, a general primary election will be held throughout California to name candidates for State, Legislative, County and Township offices.

The citizen, to vote at that election, must have registered from the precinct of his present residence since January 1st, 1918.

Registration closes on July 27th.

What have you done about it?

Have you yourself registered?

Have you exerted yourself to get your neighbors and your friends to register?

What are you going to do about it?

Unless you are registered by July 27th you will not have qualified to vote at the August primary; you will be mere dead timber in Democracy. And all the Liberty Bond Buttons, and all the Red Cross buttons in the world, and all the protestations of patriotism and of loyalty to Democracy, will not then suffice to make you live timber at this very important test of Democracy—the primary election of August 27th, 1918.

To The Voters of Campbell Township

I solicit your votes at the coming Primary election for the office of Constable of the township. I am a native American of French (Alsatian) descent, have been both a workingman and an employer, have been affiliated with the Democratic party but have not always voted a straight ticket when I thought that the country would be better served by scratching, was raised a Catholic but believe that a man's religion is his own business, do not believe in kaiserism either in Europe or America, will not make a house to house canvass for votes as I believe that voters should make up their own minds as to whom they wish to vote, for. A m familiar with the laws as I have served terms as deputy sheriff and constable in a northern county and if elected will endeavor to do my duty without fear or favor, to the best of my ability.

EXTRA!

AS we go go to Press, word comes that our American fighters are in a big drive pushing the Germans before them. A number of towns have been taken. The French and Americans have penetrated German lines four miles, taken 10,000 prisoners, and the estimated loss of the enemy is placed at 70,000 men. The fight is still progressing favorably at 5 o'clock.

IT HAS BEEN SAID that the Americans are the poorest disciplined army in the world, but are the best fighters. We believe the concluding statement of the above and at the present rate the world will know it within the next few days. Show 'em, boys.

THE politicians are working over time these days trying to make good. They are out mixing to get acquainted and are trying to hold up their end on war work. That's good but, foltows, put the war first, your job is no good if democracy loses.

German Propaganda is again on the wing. The new talk is that more men are being killed or injured at the big ship yards than at the front and more than ever before. The facts show that the percentage of injuries today is much less than ever before and the producis turned out much faster. If the Hun doesn't injure any bigger percentage than at the yards it speaks pretty conclusively of his inefficiency against the Americans.

THE American people are now called upon to make a real sacrifice. Much dearer to the American woman, at least, than food are clothes. And now we are urged to wear, remodel, make over for the children and otherwise conserve our old clothes. Most women, and men, too, have been dressing as tho there was no war, or that the woolen and cotton supplies were not needed by the army.

Sec'y McAdoo has set the new style for men with the slogan, "Patch your pants and be a Patriot."

Clothing manufacturers are voluntarily designing clothes to eliminate all surplus cloth and women are urged to make their garments on conservative, economical lines, and to cut out unnecessary trimmings and accessories.

Wear low shoes and cloth ones where possible; cut over and use up every outside or under garment, or give them to some person or organization that can make use of them. Just now, don't lay things away for some other time.

Vulcanizing Plant

Campbell has a new industry. This new business is one much needed in this town and will undoubtedly get all it can handle. Smith Brothers, experienced auto tire workers are installing a complete and up to the minute vulcanizing plant in the bank annex this week and expect to be ready to serve the needy public within a week.

With this plant tires of all sizes can be remade, patched or treaded. In fact all sick tires can be made well on short notice.

Why We Love "Old Glory" So Well

We call our flag "Old Glory" that dear old flag, so true
With its stars of night, and its streaks of morning light
And its bit of sky so blue.

'Tis the flag our fathers fought for,
Neath that flag our fathers fell,
Flag of the free, 'tis the badge of liberty.
That's why we love "Old Glory" so well.

Our boys are marching by with that banner held on high
And I want to march too.
For that dear old flag I'd fight,
For I know our cause is right.
I just love that flag; don't you?
Marching with "Old Glory".

With its red, and its white and its blue,
With its stars of night and its streaks of morning light.
For my father's flag is my flag too,
'Tis the flag my forefathers fought for,
Neath that flag my father fell.
Flag of the free, 'tis the flag of Liberty,
That's why I love "Old Glory" so well.

Our boys are "over there;" now, mothers, breathe a prayer
That they come back safe and well.
For that dear old flag they fight,
By the cannon's fitful light,
In the very breath of hell,
Fighting for "Old Glory."

With its red, and its white and its blue;
With its stars of might,
And its streaks of morning light;
For our boys they love "Old Glory", too.
'Tis the flag their forefathers fought for;
Neath that flag their forefathers fell;
Flag of the free, 'tis the flag of liberty,
That's why we love "Old Glory" so well.

Facts About Prolific Fish.

The cod is estimated to yield 4,000,000 eggs each season. As many as eight, nine, and even nine and a half million eggs have been found in the roe of a single cod. An eel was caught in Scotland some years ago which was 32 inches long and weighed about two pounds. The ovary was about 12 inches long as it lay in the fish, but when opened out it was nearly 30 inches in length, and it was calculated that this contained upward of 10,000,000 eggs, rivaling, if not surpassing, the cod in this respect.

Boys Well Cared For

To care for American wounded sent from the French sectors to French military hospitals, the American Red Cross has assigned one of its Red Cross Nurses, and a French and English speaking Red Cross aid to every French hospital caring for our men, according to a report just received from Paris. Before these nurses were assigned some of our men who had been fighting in French regiments arrived at institutions where no one could speak English. A few of these soldiers not recognizing the language, thought that they had been captured and were in the hands of the Germans. Doctors and nurses could not understand the patients who therefore had difficulty describing their symptoms and making clear their needs. Where immediate operation was necessary it often was impossible to prepare them.

Now every American on reaching a French hospital is to be received by an American Red Cross nurse who attends to his reception and care. If the nurse cannot speak French, her aid interprets for the French hospital staff. The aid also attends to correspondence for our wounded. The nurse and aid visit every American patient frequently, to give treatments, cheer him up, attend to his correspondence or to explain his needs to the French attendants. This plan has worked so well that the Service de Sante, the medical Department of the French Government, has requested the Red Cross to have ready such teams to place in every hospital receiving American Men.

Soy Bean Grows In Favor

Soy beans have been used and liked in the United States for many years in those regions where they have been grown, and more recently have been used by canners to some extent for general trade. The war situation, with its need for finding new foods and new uses for old foods, has fixed attention on this food crop to such an extent that the name soy bean has now become fairly familiar.

The soy bean, which is well known in the Orient as a valuable food staple, is unlike common legumes, in that it contains much oil and no starch. Oil is obtained by pressing it out of the beans. This leaves a press cake, which still contains some oil and all the rest of the food material originally present in the beans. The cake is readily ground into flour, which is of high food value and can be used in many ways in cooking. It has been on the market to some extent for a long time and used for special purposes. It is now becoming a common foodstuff in some localities, one which is well worth knowing and using.

Experiments with the soy-bean flour in the experiment kitchen of the Office of Home Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, show that palatable dishes can be made by using it as one of the ingredients. Tested recipes using soy-bean flour are given in Secretary's Circular 113, just issued by the department. Copies will be sent free on request from Division of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.
